Halloween Boo Bash

Double, double, toil and trouble,
Fires burn, and caldrons bubble...
Calling all witches, goblins and ghosts
The Jacksonville Public Library will be  your host...

Stop on in  for a trick or treat
Eyeballs and worms, plenty to eat
The fun begins at 10 on the dime.
Wear your costume and be on time!
We will have crafts and a balloon tamer to boot!
Saturday, Oct. 22nd 10-11AM

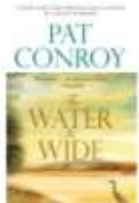

We will be closed for

COLUMBUS DAY

Monday, Oct. 10th.

JPL Book Club: The Water is Wide

Join the JPL Book Club for a young man's amazing journey fresh from college into the harsh realities of the real world. The heartbreaks, silliness and joy of life can be found in The Water is Wide. Based on Pat Conroy's own experience, it is the true story of a man who gave a year of his life to an island and the new life its people gave him. Join the discussion on Thursday, Oct. 27th at 7:00PM.

Pinkalicious Halloween Contest

Having trouble deciding what your Pinkalicious Halloween costume should be? We have the solution for you! Draw a picture of Pinkalicious and bring it in by Oct. 21st. Then come to our Halloween Boo Bash on Oct. 22nd at 10 and you can win a Pinkalicious dress! The dress can fit sizes 4-6X, so just about anyone who is into Pinkalicious can join in!

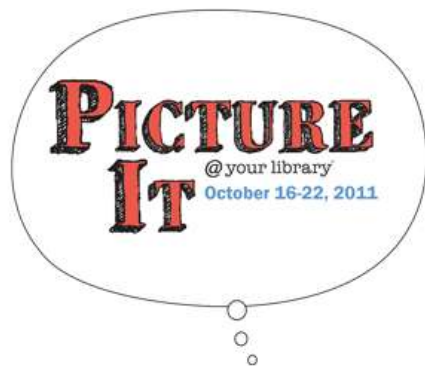

Picture It for Teen Read Week

We will be celebrating Teen Read Week with style this year! Teens (13-18 years old) can enter a photo contest where they could win an ereader or free books! Here's the idea: pick your favorite book and create art work that represents the book. Take a picture and upload it to Flickr and you could win! Need a little help? Photographer Karen Anderson will be here on Saturday, Oct 15th at 1:00PM to lead a workshop on photography tips! Entries are due by Oct. 31st. More details are on our website.
